MESA TACTICAL

We formed Mesa Tactical in 2003 with a dedication to build the finest tactical shotgun accessories for military and law enforcement professionals, and we're proud of the strong and durable products that we've continued to develop over the past 13 years.

The first generation of Mesa Tactical LEO aluminum AR-15 stock adapters for shotguns continues to provide unsurpassed security and functionality for thousands of Remington 870 and Mossberg 500 pump-action shotgun users. Our second generation, or "Gen II" LEO adapter, enhances the utility of Beretta 1301 and Remington V3 semi-auto shotguns. This compact and comfortable Gen II design is now being extended to the original Remington and Mossberg pump platforms.

But we aren't just proud of our tradition. We're driven to seek newer and better solutions for our valued customers. As Magpul's M-LOK accessory mount standard has become increasingly important for tactical small arms, our Truckee forends now provide M-LOK attachment points for semi-automatic shotguns, simplifying the ability to add potentially life-saving accessories such as lights, lasers and red-dot optics.

We're also quick to adjust to an ever-changing market. The recent generation of stockless, short-barreled home defense shotguns such as the Mossberg 590 Shockwave and Remington Tac-13/Tac-14 have been the most exciting development in the shotgun sector in the last few years. We've had a lot of requests for full-length Picatinny rails that can also act as handguards on these models, so we are responding to customer needs with our Fallon System, 18-inch rails and M-LOK accessory mounts for them.

We are privileged to be able to serve the generations of tactical professionals who lay it on the line to keep the peace and protect our freedom, and the legions of law-abiding citizens who rely on our products in critical home-defense situations. It's in our heritage to supply them with the necessary tools to get the job done.
